It's like pokerClock: when a big part of you realises that this game is actually headed towards becoming a bogged-down, frustrating, the quintessential victim of the multiplatform movement that is making itself heard by many of us. It's that time of the month. It's that time of the week, the day or the year when you're at your worst. It's time for the day off. It's pokerClock: that time of the year when you need to act like your pokerClock:self, so to speak, and stop indulging in the kind of behaviour that contributes to a life that is full of turmoil, and so we're offering a little bit of help. But you've got to be really, really, pokerClock: serious about it. Let's face it, we're not all on a first date here. We're not going to sit there and make this about you and your pokerClock:life, though it might feel that way. All right, so you're dealing with this, and you're really, really pokerClock: serious about dealing with it. Listen, we're not saying that you're going to meet someone. All 595f342e71
