The Lost Children Trilogy The Lost Children Trilogy is a series of three young adult fantasy novels by Roshani Chokshi, the first of which, The Eligible Series, was a finalist for the 2010 Carnegie Medal. Fiction The Eligible Series The first novel in the series is The Eligible Series, which was published in 2010. It follows Ella and her mother, Mona, on an adventure with a witch named Sybelle who is summoned to help a boy named Ella from another dimension. The Road to Eligible The second novel in the series, The Road to Eligible, was published in 2011. It follows Ella, her mother, and their new friend, Tara, on a journey to save the bookshop Ella works at. Later in the book, Ella and Tara are at a boathouse when they encounter a boy named Ben and an abandoned child. They rescue the boy, and introduce him to Ella and Tara as their brother, Jay. The three decide to find the cause of the boy's disappearance and help him. Reincarnation The third and final novel in the trilogy, Reincarnation, was published in 2012 and follows Ella, Ben, Tara, and Jay through four generations of their family. Later, the siblings find out that there is a murderer hiding in their house and they start hiding people from the murderer's next death. Ella is obsessed with the murderer in the book and wants to follow him. Summary When Ella is 7, she is visited by Sybelle in a dream. Sybelle offers Ella a deal, that if she has all the books she needs to read before she turns 13, she will be allowed to stay in the mortal realm and that Ella's mother will never have to worry about Ella being kidnapped by the other side again. Ella and her mother agree
